WEAR CHANGE

WHO WE ARE

In our bustling world of fashion and promotional industry, where trends come and go, a new brand was created early 2023. This brand is IQONIQ - a name destined to become synonymous with low impact, innovation and personal expression. Its inception was rooted in a profound realisation: the need to transform the textile industry and to prioritise protection of the environment. Since the start, the vision is clear: create a mono-material clothing brand made out of recycled materials to minimise the environmental footprint, with traceability and transparency on impact data by proving it via Digital Product Passports with each model.

THE ORIGINS

As we observed the increasing strain on Earth's resources and the growing urgency to reduce CO₂ emissions, a compelling truth emerged: the textile and fashion industry, with its substantial environmental footprint, needed a transformative approach. IQONIQ was conceived with the aim of producing clothing that minimises the environmental impact while catering to the diverse needs of consumers. The founders recognise that recycling is not just an option but the cornerstone of the mission. By using the highest percentage possible of recycled materials in its products, IQONIQ seeks to turn a pressing challenge into an opportunity for positive change.

RESHAPING THE WORLD OF PRINTABLE TEXTILE

WEAR CHANGE

The baseline Wear Change reflects a bold commitment to making a real difference in the fashion industry and beyond. It's a call to action, inviting people not only to wear clothes but to wear a mindset, a movement, and a purpose. Wear Change means choosing garments made from recycled materials, opting for durable practices, and choosing a future where fashion is both stylish and responsible.

TRUSTED TRACEABILITY

100% TRANSPARENT

One of the most innovative aspects of IQONIQ's journey is its commitment to transparency and traceability.

IQONIQ uses the AWARE™ solution, which combines a physical tracer with public block chain technology, ensuring the authenticity of its claims and offering trusted traceability.

Every product can be traced, thanks to a physical tracer that tracks its journey from the raw material to the finished product.

IQONIQ is transparent in sharing impact and social data; each garment comes with a Digital Product Passport.

Integrating such cutting-edge technology allows consumers to trust that every garment is genuinely made from recycled materials, reinforcing IQONIQ's mission of accountability and environmental stewardship

UNLEASH YOUR STYLE WITH RECYCLED, CUSTOMISABLE TEXTILES

Introducing IQONIQ's 2026 collection.

Our approach is unique and quite simple. The brand was built on the beliefs that clothing should be both customisable and be made of mono-and recycled materials in order to have the lowest carbon impact as possible. The core idea is to allow clients to express their unique style while supporting low impact.

Each garment proposed by IQONIQ can be tailored to individual preferences, reflecting your personality while maintaining a commitment to low-impact production.

In line with its commitment to reducing the impact to a minimum, IQONIQ's garments are crafted from different recycled materials, reducing the reliance on virgin resources and minimising waste.

Each garment is named after a breathtaking natural location in the world: Manuel, Sierra, Teide, Kakadu, Yala, Koli, Yosemite, Zion, Jasper, Torres, Rila and Trivor, inviting you to explore the wonders of nature. These names are not just labels - they are symbols of our commitment to preserving the planet.

With IQONIQ, you don't just wear clothes; you make a statement. A statement that says you are ready to change the textile industry by choosing high-quality fashion made from used Materials. It's time to wear your change.

Our goal? To turn waste into value and make low impact fashion the new standard

RECYCLING

THE ONLY PATH FORWARD

INFOGRAPHIC:

How recycled polyester is made

The choice of recycled materials, such as recycled cotton and polyester, is not just an option—it's the only choice we can make if we are serious about transforming the textile industry and protecting our planet. By prioritising the use of recycled resources, we break free from the harmful cycle of exploiting virgin materials and continue towards a virtuous loop of sustainability.

Recycled cotton reduces the strain on agricultural land, water resources and textile waste, while recycling polyester helps tackle the growing issue of plastic waste. Together, they represent a powerful opportunity to mitigate the industry's environmental footprint and foster a new standard in eco-conscious production.

Embracing recycled textiles allows us to create products that honour the Earth rather than deplete it, ensuring that future generations inherit a healthier, more sustainable world. The path forward is clear—innovation, responsibility, and recycling must lead the way.

UNDYED HEATHER COLOURS

A NATURAL ODE TO THE PLANET

Introducing IQONIQ's Undyed Collection, a range of stunning, naturally heathered colours made from a blend of cotton waste in its existing colour and virgin organic cotton. By using this innovative mix, we create beautiful tones with an even lower impact than our traditional production methods, taking sustainability to the next level.

This collection is a true ode to the planet, featuring a rich palette of earthy, green, blue, brown and grey tones that reflect the natural world. Without the need for additional dyes, each shade is born from the inherent beauty of recycled and raw materials, minimising environmental impact while embracing the essence of nature.

These undyed colours are not just a design choice—they are a statement. They represent a shift toward more thoughtful fashion, where the use of fewer resources and the celebration of natural beauty come together. By choosing IQONIQ's Undyed Collection, you're not just wearing a colour, you're wearing a commitment to the planet.

MAKE IT ALL YOURS

At IQONIQ, every product in our collection has been thoughtfully developed to be fully customisable. While our garments can certainly be worn blank and still look great, their true potential lies in being personalised to reflect your brand's identity and values. Designed to support communication objectives for companies, institutions, and creators alike, our pieces serve as the perfect canvas for visual storytelling and meaningful branding.

As pioneers in responsible textile manufacturing, we've taken on the challenge of producing high-quality products with exceptional softness and printability, all while minimising environmental impact. But progress doesn't stop with the garment itself.
