Swiss precision, global icon

VICTORINOX

Design follows function. It always has. The principle that has guided Victorinox since Karl Elsener opened his cutler's workshop in Ibach, Switzerland in 1884.

Over 140 years later, every product still begins with the same question: what does it need to do? Form serves purpose, never the other way around. From the original Swiss Army Knife to precision cutlery, every product is a considered combination of craftsmanship, materials and everyday usability. That commitment to design and performance has been recognised around the world.

Founded in 1884.
Over 140 years of Swiss craft.

From knife to cutlery
A range built on the same principle.

Form serves purpose
Never the other way around.

From a simple question, to a global mission

Founded in 2010, the brand was born from a simple question: why buy packaged water when tap water is right there?

Dopper exists to end single-use plastic water bottles by making reusable bottles people genuinely want to use. Beyond that, the brand funds clean water projects in Nepal and challenges governments and businesses to do better. Every bottle and accessory carries Cradle to Cradle Certified Bronze status or higher. The Dopper Original goes one step further as the first reusable bottle collection in the world to achieve Cradle to Cradle Certified Gold.

Founded in 2010
to end single-use packaged water.

Cradle to Cradle Gold
for the Dopper Original.

Every bottle counts
reducing plastic waste and funding clean water projects in Nepal.
